
GL2S.Radio Launch!

Posted by ghoutteman - 2008/05/03 01:34

GL2S is proud to announce the launch of GL2S.Radio covering events from the Lake Michigan Tournament Trail starting with our first broadcast from Michigan City, IN at the Hoosier Coho Club Classic.

There are a number of ways you can receive GL2S.Radio the simplest being selecting the GL2S.Radio option from the "The Trail" menu. Simply select the event and day you'd like to hear and hit the play button.

You can also subscribe to the RSS feed by clicking the Subscribe button on the homepage. Subscribing will generate a live feed in most browsers which will be updated automatically as new broadcasts are listed.

NOTE: When trying to subscribe some browsers, particularly older version of popular browsers, don't properly support live feeds. In this case you'll likely get a screen full of text that doesn't make any sense - just use the menu system to access GL2S.Radio.

We have chosen not to support Podcast and iTunes at this time, we have the technology to do so if there is enough demand from our membership to justify it. We felt it was just as easy to post simple MP3s that can be played anywhere.
